

2016 Season

SWGA Keeping Score and Pace of Play Tips

How do I schedule a match??

- Captains are primarily responsible for scheduling matches.
- Two to three weeks prior to the match you want to play, each captain should consult with their team members on days when the team is available.
- If you know your team is unavailable during a stretch of time try to schedule the matches ahead of time so that you are not left with a bunch of matches at the end of the season.
- After determining the availability of your team members the captains should e-mail each other and suggest some dates.
 - Don't wait for the other captain to contact you. If you both happen to send e-mail on the same day all the better.

How do I schedule a match?? Cont.

- E-mails go back and forth and a day, time, course, and players are decided upon.
- Confirm with each other if there is any confusion.
- Look up all players handicaps
- Play the match
 - Remember, there is only a 15 min grace period for team members to arrive and be ready to play, so if you know you can't be somewhere and ready to play by 5:00, don't schedule the match for 5:00 schedule it for 5:30 or something more appropriate.

How do I fill out a scorecard to make it easier for the league director???

- Each team keeps one card
- Fill in full names or first initial and last name
- Write the team numbers above the names
- Write the Match # on the card
- Write the date of the match on the card

How do I adjust my handicap for the course?

Reg9-League ONLY

- Figure out the adjusted handicap for the course and write the adjusted handicap next to each name
 - Usually there is a conversion chart posted in the clubhouse. Look for your handicap and convert to the course adjusted handicap.
 - You can also use the GHIN site to calculate a course handicap.
 - Go to www.ghin.com
 - Use the handicap lookup feature to look up your handicap.
 - On the left side of the screen at the bottom is a course handicap calculator.
 - Enter your handicap and the slope (can be found on the scorecards for the course or in the course rating finder on the website).
 - The maximum handicap you can use is 20 even if the adjusted course handicap is higher (This is good incentive to improve your game!).

How do I adjust my handicap if people are playing from different tees?

Reg 9 Hole-League ONLY

- To correct for the difference, if you are playing from different tees, look at the course rating for the parties of interest and correct appropriately. See Playing From Different Tees Handout.
 - Example: If women playing from the forward tees from which the women's Course Rating is 73.4, compete against men playing from the middle tees from which the men's Course Rating is 70.9, the women will add three strokes ($73.4 - 70.9 = 2.5$ rounded to 3 strokes) to their Course Handicap.
 - The procedure is the same for women vs. women on different tees (just check the course rating for the different tees and correct appropriately).
 - Remember that tee selection should be made by ability, not by gender. Don't hesitate to play from the tees that match your ability.

How do I account for handicap differences on the scorecard??

- Mark “ticks” on the holes for handicap differences
 - Find the hole handicap ranking usually found underneath the yardage of each hole (this is how you determine which holes to put the “ticks” on first)
 - Par-3 League uses the length of the hole not the difficulty (longest to shortest).
 - The holes are numbered odd for the front nine and even for the back nine. 1 is the hardest and 18 is the easiest.
 - Determine who has the lowest handicap.
 - Figure out the difference between the lowest handicap and the rest of the golfers.
 - Example: A Schwebke has the lowest handicap of 11 and C Mitchell has a handicap of 20. C Mitchell gets 9 “ticks” starting with the hole ranked 1 and going up until there are no more ticks. If the player receives more than 9 ‘ticks”, start over with the #1 ranked hole until # of “ticks” received are recorded.

Whew...I made it to actually playing now what??

- Play, play, play
- At the end of each hole record your actual score.
- Determine the winner of the hole
 - Add the two team members actual scores. Subtract any “ticks”. Compare against the other team’s adjusted score. Mark the winner of the hole with a “+”, a loser with a “---”, and the tie with a “0”.

What do I do with the score cards??

- At the end of the match determine the winner of the match and write that on the score card.
- Circle any pars, put a square around your birdie, and indicate with a circle and arrow a chip-in.
- One member of each team signs each score card.
- One person makes a photocopy of the score cards and sends them to the league director.
- Reg 9 league: Gerri Bachicha / Par3: Carol Schuster
- Record your score in the GHIN computer at the course or on the web at www.ghin.com for Regulation 9-Hole. (Par 3 is recorded by the Handicap Director)
 - Remember that you can only record the maximum number of strokes per hole for your handicap when entering your score for GHIN (See Equitable Stroke Control Handout)
 - Example: If you have a 21 handicap the max strokes per hole that you can record is 10.
 - To record your score in the computer at the course enter your GHIN (ex: 7769-034) and your last name and answer the questions as you are prompted.
 - If you make a mistake then contact the league director and it can be fixed.
- Remember to post all scores (even when you are playing on the weekend, if the game was played according to the rules of golf) to get the most accurate handicap!!!

Provisional Balls...What are these and when do I use one??

- Provisional balls are used when you think your ball might have gone out of bounds or if you think it might be lost.
 - SWGA modified the existing USGA rule to encourage the use of provisional balls.
 - If you think you need to hit a provisional then do it. If you find your ball or if it did not go out of bounds then the provisional ball is picked up and the original ball is played with no penalty.
 - If the provisional ball is used to complete the hole then a penalty of one stroke is added to the score.
- If you did not hit a provisional and your ball is lost or out of bounds then drop a ball where you think it went out or was lost and penalize yourself two strokes.
 - This is just to help speed up play and is an SWGA exception to the rules of golf—normally a player is required to go back to where the out-of-bound ball was hit—this is dangerous-don't attempt.
- SWGA strongly encourages the use of Provisionals.

Ready Golf (One of the most important factors for an enjoyable recreational game)

- Put a ball marker, score marker, some tees, and anything else you might need in your pocket or a convenient place in your bag before you need it.
- The first person ready goes, don't worry about who has "honors."
- Be quiet when anyone is preparing or taking a stroke
- Walk quickly to your ball when safe to do so, don't stroll or visit (think about all of the brownies you can eat later after your brisk walk around the course)
- Be planning your club selection on your way to the ball so you are ready to hit when you get there.

- If you are riding in a cart and have to walk to the ball, take several clubs so that you don't have to walk back to the cart.
- Be aware whose ball is farthest out and hit if it is yours. If they are close to the same distance whoever is ready goes.
- If there are two balls on opposite sides of a wide fairway then it is OK for both to hit at the same time.
- If you have a short hit (not that that ever happens to us) take your bag with you so that you don't have to go back and get it.

More Ready Golf (One of the most important factors for an enjoyable recreational game)

- When you get to the green, take your bag past the flag towards the next hole so that you don't have to go all the way to the front of the green to retrieve it.
- Bags or carts cannot be taken on the green or tee box. Carts must follow the cart signs.
- As you are walking to the green get your putter ready and be planning your shot.
- If your ball is farthest from the hole, it's your turn, so line up and putt.
- If someone is still making their way to their ball (especially if they are in a trap or off the green) and you are ready – have someone tend the pin and go ahead and putt. Remember READY GOLF!!!
- Mark your ball quickly so that others are not waiting on you.
- After holing out, go quickly to the next tee. While two people are marking the score two people can be teeing off.

Problems and Issues

- If you can't finish a match and there is a clear winner then the match is done. Any remaining holes are scored at par plus any ticks.
- If you can't finish a match and there is no clear winner then you must replay the match.
